Subject: ATF Long Gun Sales Reporting

Hello,

I am writing today in regards to the ATF Long Gun Sales Reporting proposal.

I respectfully ask that this sales reporting proposal not be implemented. It is my personal believe that the major problem with sales of firearms near the border of Mexico is due to the failure for the Federal Government to adequately protect the border itself. Not due to the sales and potential smuggling of firearms across the border to Mexico for the drug cartels. Issues along the California , Arizona , New Mexico and Texas borders are based on a failure of our Central Government's lack to control the flow of people and contraband across the porous border.

I ask that the border to Mexico be properly sealed and that attention be paid to that issue. My suggestion as a citizen is that we first erect (a) physical wall(s) across the border and not increase unnecessary burdens on gun dealers and gun buyers.

Our country would never have been created without the historical fact that the American Colonialists were personally armed. Our nation is now, and always has been, properly secured and protected so long as the citizens are personally armed. History has also shown that gun registration only increases the possibility for a tyrannical government or dictator to assume absolute power over their citizens.

I please ask that the attention that the ATF would place in this area of national security along the border instead be redirected into an increase in border security agents and a strongly erected border wall. I please ask that this proposal be struck down.

Thank you for consideration of my opinion,

Steve Evans

In 1911, turkey established gun control. From 1915 to 1917, 1.5 million Armenians, unable to defend themselves, were rounded up and exterminated.

Germany established gun control in 1938 and from 1939 to 1945, a total of 13 million Jews and others who were unable to defend themselves were rounded up and exterminated.

China established gun control in 1935. >from 1948 to 1952, 20 million political dissidents, unable to defend themselves, were rounded up and exterminated

Guatemala established gun control in 1964. >from 1964 to 1981, 100,000 Mayan Indians, unable to defend themselves, were rounded up and exterminated.

Uganda established gun control in 1970. >from 1971 to 1979, 300,000 Christians, unable to defend themselves, were rounded up and exterminated.

Cambodia established gun control in 1956. >from 1975 to 1977, one million educated people, unable to defend themselves, were rounded up and exterminated.

Defenseless people rounded up and exterminated in the 20th century because of gun control: 56 million.

it has now been 12 months since gun owners in Australia were forced by new law to surrender 640,381 personal firearms to be destroyed by their own government, a program costing Australia taxpayers more than $500 million dollars. The first year results are now in:

List of 7 items:

Australia-wide, homicides are up 3.2 percent.

Australia-wide, assaults are up 8.6 percent.

Australia-wide, armed robberies are up 44 percent (yes, 44 percent)!

In the state of Victoria alone, homicides with firearms are now up 300 percent. Note that while the law-abiding citizens turned them in, the criminals did not, and criminals still possess their guns!

While figures over the previous 25 years showed a steady decrease in armed robbery with firearms, this has changed drastically upward in the past 12 months, since criminals now are guaranteed that their prey is unarmed.

There has also been a dramatic increase in break-ins and assaults of the elderly. Australian politicians are at a loss to explain how public safety has decreased, after such monumental effort, and expense was expended in successfully ridding Australian society of guns. The Australian experience and the other historical facts above prove it.

You won't see this data on the U.S, evening news, or hear politicians disseminating this information.

Guns in the hands of honest citizens save lives and property and, yes, gun-control laws adversely affect only the law-abiding citizens.

Take note my fellow Americans, before it's too late! The next time someone talks in favor of gun control, please remind them of this history lesson. With guns, we are 'citizens'. Without them, we are 'subjects'.

During WWII the Japanese decided not to invade America because they knew most Americans were armed!

If you value your freedom, please spread this anti-gun control message to all of your friends. The purpose of fighting is to win. There is no possible victory in defense. The sword is more important than the shield, and skill is more important than either. The final weapon is the brain. All else is supplemental.

Switzerland issues every household a gun! Switzerland's government trains every adult they issue a rifle... Switzerland has the lowest gun related crime rate of any civilized country in the world!!!

It's a no brainer! Don't let our government waste millions of our tax dollars in an effort to make all law abiding citizens an easy target. "Unknown author"

Pass this on to others.

The need to know or the demanding to know? You do not need to know. You need to protect our borders, watch our ship yards, watch shipments across our border. When we have information of interior threats, take action. Filling a data base of sales is nothing more than big brother, or are you not telling us the real reason for this action.

The request for this action itself doesn't pass the smell test.

The following is a copy of a letter I sent to OMB today. The ATF request for info. Collection is absurd.

OMB
Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs
Attention: Department of Justice Desk Officer
Washington, DC 20503

RE: Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing as a concerned citizen regarding the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives request to the OMB for the collection of information from under the captioned notice. The request is ludicrous for a number of reasons. First, ATF isn't authorized with statutory authority to impose the requirement on licensees. Congress has given ATF comprehensive definitions of what they may and may not require concerning licensees' records and implicitly rejected the idea of requiring reports on multiple sales of firearms. Secondly it is a backdoor power play by ATF to circumvent the intent of Congress, by using "demand letters" to accomplish what Congress has limited. Third the request and subsequent processing will consume resources of the agency that would be better used in actual field enforcement efforts.

I respectfully request that Office of Management and Budget deny ATF's request for the proposed collection of information. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

S. T. Ledgerwood

Please OPPOSE the “Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles.”

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

Congress has comprehensively defined what ATF may and may not require with respect to licensees' records. By specifically requiring reports only of multiple handgun sales, Congress implicitly rejected the idea of requiring reports on multiple sales of other firearms. ATF seemed to understand that point when it responded in October to a recommendation for multiple long gun sales reporting by the Department of Justice Inspector General. ATF's comment on that recommendation was that it would "explore the full range of options" but that such a requirement "may require a change to the Gun Control Act."¹

These reports will be requested through "demand letters"—a mechanism that for many years had been used only to conduct firearm traces, to obtain aggregate manufacturing statistics, or to obtain contact information for buyers of certain firearms later declared to be subject to the National Firearms Act. Even when ATF began to use demand letters to seek a broader range of firearm transaction records, one court upholding that program cautioned that the demand letter statute "is not a limitless delegation of authority" and "cannot be construed in an open-ended fashion."²

Why is it that all antigun laws are cracking down on legal gun owners? It is far easier for someone to purchase illegal, or street guns then it is to purchase a legal firearm. I agree that most of these laws sound good but if you look below the surface most of the laws do nothing to prevent crime. most new laws are duplicates or close matches to existing laws. And none stop the sale of ILLEGAL fire arms. most crime is committed with an illegal firearm. I think if someone is qualified to purchase and own a firearm they should have that right without the legal harassment they get now. please do not support the reporting of multiple long guns.

I am writing to oppose the so called emergency regulation to register multiple sales of certain rifles with BATFE as described in FR Doc. 2010-31761 from the 12/17/2010 Federal Register.

This regulation is both illegal and unnecessary. Further there is no justification for any "emergency" implementation as reported by the Washington Post:

White House delayed rule meant to stop gun flow to Mexico, Washington Post, Dec. 17, 2010, On-line edition:

(<http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/content/article/2010/12/17/AR2010121706598.html>).

* The regulation proposed is outside the statutory grant of authority to record information about multiple sales of firearms. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) specifically grants the authority to collect multiple sale information on handguns and revolvers. Other firearms are excluded and there is no implied authority to extend this reporting requirement to rifles or any other type of firearm.

* "FFL" holders are already required by law to respond to BATFE requests for information on firearms distribution pursuant to criminal investigations: Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(7).

* The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of information collected, which establishes a nationwide registry of "certain types of firearms" as proposed. Because of this the regulation as proposed is illegal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a). "No such rule or regulation . may require that records required to be maintained under this chapter or any portion of the contents of such records, be recorded at or transferred to a facility owned, managed, or controlled by the United States or any State or any political subdivision thereof, nor that any system of registration of firearms, firearms owners, or firearms transactions or disposition be established."

There is a grave potential for this regulation to unduly burden citizens who are collectors or must obtain purchase permits at the local or state level to possess firearms. The proposed regulation does not say what the agency intends to do with the information but ostensibly it would be for criminal investigations. Subjecting law abiding gun owners to this type of investigation under the guise of "information collection" is an overt attempt to prevent them from exercising their 2nd Amendment rights to purchase and own firearms.

This regulatory action should not be approved.

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

Subject: Oppose Regulation Expanding Multiple Sale Reporting

I am writing to oppose the so called emergency regulation to register multiple sales of certain rifles with BATFE as described in FR Doc.

2010-31761 from the 12/17/2010 Federal Register.

This regulation is both illegal and unnecessary. Further there is no justification for any "emergency" implementation as reported by the Washington Post:

White House delayed rule meant to stop gun flow to Mexico, Washington Post, Dec. 17, 2010, On-line edition:

(<http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/content/article/2010/12/17/AR2010121706598.html>).

* The regulation proposed is outside the statutory grant of authority to record information about multiple sales of firearms. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) specifically grants the authority to collect multiple sale information on handguns and revolvers. Other firearms are excluded and there is no implied authority to extend this reporting requirement to rifles or any other type of firearm.

* "FFL" holders are already required by law to respond to BATFE requests for information on firearms distribution pursuant to criminal investigations: Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(7).

* The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of information collected, which establishes a nationwide registry of "certain types of firearms" as proposed. Because of this the regulation as proposed is illegal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a). "No such rule or regulation . may require that records required to be maintained under this chapter or any portion of the contents of such records, be recorded at or transferred to a facility owned, managed, or controlled by the United States or any State or any political subdivision thereof, nor that any system of registration of firearms, firearms owners, or firearms transactions or disposition be established."

There is a grave potential for this regulation to unduly burden citizens who are collectors or must obtain purchase permits at the local or state level to possess firearms. The proposed regulation does not say what the agency intends to do with the information but ostensibly it would be for criminal investigations. Subjecting law abiding gun owners to this type of investigation under the guise of "information collection" is an overt attempt to prevent them from exercising their 2nd Amendment rights to purchase and own firearms.

* This regulatory action has not allowed the public sufficient time to comment.

This regulatory action should not be approved.

Sincerely
Sam Culp

The ATF was not created as a world wide regulation department of the federal government. It would sound like the powers to be are trying to extend their authority world wide with this little step in that direction. If the borders were secured better then many problems of the ATF would be solved. American purchased fire arms would stay here and not get into the hands of the border thugs that seem to be doing a good job of securing our neighboring borders to the south.

Dear Barbara Terrell,

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

I will do what I can to educate NRA supporters within my sphere of influence.

Dear Barbara Terrell,

President Obama, your administration needs to do all it can to stop the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels. The lives of our Mexican neighbors depend on it, and who knows if the violence might eventually spread over into our country?

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

Because of Americans' appetite for illegal drugs and our loose gun policies, 30,000 people have been murdered in cartel wars. It's urgent that you act swiftly to make sure that drug cartels can't buy weapons in the U.S. that will be put to such deadly use.

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

Subject: Please OPPOSE the BATFE's proposal to report multiple sale of certain rifles

Please OPPOSE the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

Subject: TF multi rifle sale registration am writing to oppose the so called emergency regulation to register multiple sales of certain rifles with BATFE as described in FR Doc. 2010–31761 from the 12/17/2010 Federal Register.

This regulation is both illegal and unnecessary. Further there is no justification for any “emergency” implementation as reported by the Washington Post:

White House delayed rule meant to stop gun flow to Mexico, Washington Post, Dec. 17, 2010, On-line edition: (<http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/content/article/2010/12/17/AR2010121706598.html>).

* The regulation proposed is outside the statutory grant of authority to record information about multiple sales of firearms. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) specifically grants the authority to collect multiple sale information on handguns and revolvers. Other firearms are excluded and there is no implied authority to extend this reporting requirement to rifles or any other type of firearm.

* “FFL” holders are already required by law to respond to BATFE requests for information on firearms distribution pursuant to criminal investigations: Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(7).

* The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of information collected, which establishes a nationwide registry of “certain types of firearms” as proposed. Because of this the regulation as proposed is illegal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a). “No such rule or regulation ... may require that records required to be maintained under this chapter or any portion of the contents of such records, be recorded at or transferred to a facility owned, managed, or controlled by the United States or any State or any political subdivision thereof, nor that any system of registration of firearms, firearms owners, or firearms transactions or disposition be established.”

There is a grave potential for this regulation to unduly burden citizens who are collectors or must obtain purchase permits at the local or state level to possess firearms. The proposed regulation does not say what the agency intends to do with the information but ostensibly it would be for criminal investigations. Subjecting law abiding gun owners to this type of investigation under the guise of “information collection” is an overt attempt to prevent them from exercising their 2nd Amendment rights to purchase and own firearms.

* This regulatory action has not allowed the public sufficient time to comment.

This regulatory action should not be approved.

Two questions:

Why do Americans have to be subject to more regulations because of another country's inability to enforce theirs?

Why is the Obama administration so out of touch with the values of the majority of U.S. citizens?

NO NEW REGULATIONS ON FIREARMS!!

Dear Barbara Terrell,

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

I am writing to oppose the so called emergency regulation to register multiple sales of certain rifles with BATFE as described in FR Doc. 2010-31761 from the 12/17/2010 Federal Register. <http://edocket.access.gpo.gov/2010/pdf/2010-31761.pdf>

This regulation is both illegal and unnecessary. Further there is no justification for any "emergency" implementation as reported by the Washington Post:

White House delayed rule meant to stop gun flow to Mexico, Washington Post, Dec. 17, 2010, On-line edition:

(<http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/content/article/2010/12/17/AR2010121706598.html>).

* The regulation proposed is outside the statutory grant of authority to record information about multiple sales of firearms. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) specifically grants the authority to collect multiple sale information on handguns and revolvers. Other firearms are excluded and there is no implied authority to extend this reporting requirement to rifles or any other type of firearm.

* "FFL" holders are already required by law to respond to BATFE requests for information on firearms distribution pursuant to criminal investigations: Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(7).

* The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of information collected, which establishes a nationwide registry of "certain types of firearms" as proposed. Because of this the regulation as proposed is illegal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a). "No such rule or regulation . may require that records required to be maintained under this chapter or any portion of the contents of such records, be recorded at or transferred to a facility owned, managed, or controlled by the United States or any State or any political subdivision thereof, nor that any system of registration of firearms, firearms owners, or firearms transactions or disposition be established."

There is a grave potential for this regulation to unduly burden citizens who are collectors or must obtain purchase permits at the local or state level to possess firearms. The proposed regulation does not say what the agency intends to do with the information but ostensibly it would be for criminal investigations. Subjecting law abiding gun owners to this type of investigation under the guise of "information collection" is an overt attempt to prevent them from exercising their 2nd Amendment rights to purchase and own firearms.

* This regulatory action has not allowed the public sufficient time to comment.

This regulatory action should not be approved.

Our Constitution guarantees the rights of the citizens of the United States to keep and bear arms. The Heller Decision handed down by the Supreme Court affirms this. Subject: ATF infringements

The ATF's new proposal on Multiple long gun sales reports is an infringement on American rights. The intrusion on non-felon, law abiding citizens rights laid out by the Bill Of Rights, is an outrage to the Democracy of this Nation. Current law stands as any long gun sold must be done after a back ground check, or the buyer holds a permit, concealed carry, or purchase permit, before any gun is sold. Therefore unless the seller doesn't abide by these laws, there is no infringement. To futher tie up the ATF's current investigations, on straw purchases, illegal sales, on these leads would no doubt make an already stressed agency to be ineffective at uholding the laws already in effect. I add at the bottom the law in which Im referring to submitted on December 17th 2010.

Furthermore these laws are under submission because of claims that the Mexican Drug Cartels are receiving their arms from the United States. Seems to be that the Cartels are actually receiving their arms from other countries that do not have such laws as the U.S. Can someone please explain to the American people why we are under demand from another country to control our rights? Maybe it should be told to Mexico what was just recently said to Egypt by our own Administration? I didnt think the U.S. negotiated with terrorists..... the Mexican Government is just as corrupt as the Cartels, which to some both seem terrorist like. Or is this another ploy by the current Administration to further remove and impose on the American way of life?

But lawlessness in Mexico—driven by multi-billion dollar drug cartels with access to any and all types of arms on the international black markets—is no excuse for U.S. law enforcement agencies to spend scarce resources on programs that exceed their legal powers.

The December 17, 2010 "Emergency Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles" does not indicate the statutory authority upon which ATF relies for its proposed multiple sales reporting requirement. However, a statement by ATF Deputy Director Kenneth Melson posted online at www.atf.gov indicates that licensees will be sent "demand letters" seeking the information. This memorandum explains why ATF's "demand letter" authority does not authorize the proposed collection.

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law.

Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

Sincerely,

Subject: Oppose Regulation Expanding Multiple Sale Reporting

To: Barbara Terrell,

I am writing to oppose the so called emergency regulation to register multiple sales of certain rifles with BATFE as described in FR Doc.

2010-31761 from the 12/17/2010 Federal Register.

This regulation is both illegal and unnecessary. Further there is no justification for any "emergency" implementation as reported by the Washington Post:

White House delayed rule meant to stop gun flow to Mexico, Washington Post, Dec. 17, 2010, On-line edition:

(<http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/content/article/2010/12/17/AR2010121706598.html>).

* The regulation proposed is outside the statutory grant of authority to record information about multiple sales of firearms. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) specifically grants the authority to collect multiple sale information on handguns and revolvers. Other firearms are excluded and there is no implied authority to extend this reporting requirement to rifles or any other type of firearm.

* "FFL" holders are already required by law to respond to BATFE requests for information on firearms distribution pursuant to criminal investigations: Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(7).

* The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of information collected, which establishes a nationwide registry of "certain types of firearms" as proposed. Because of this the regulation as proposed is illegal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a). "No such rule or regulation . may require that records required to be maintained under this chapter or any portion of the contents of such records, be recorded at or transferred to a facility owned, managed, or controlled by the United States or any State or any political subdivision thereof, nor that any system of registration of firearms, firearms owners, or firearms transactions or disposition be established."

There is a grave potential for this regulation to unduly burden citizens who are collectors or must obtain purchase permits at the local or state level to possess firearms. The proposed regulation does not say what the agency intends to do with the information but ostensibly it would be for criminal investigations. Subjecting law abiding gun owners to this type of investigation under the guise of "information collection" is an overt attempt to prevent them from exercising their 2nd Amendment rights to purchase and own firearms.

* This regulatory action has not allowed the public sufficient time to comment.

This regulatory action should not be approved.

Regards,

Scott McCray

Dear Barbara Terrell,

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

I do not support The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives proposal for the authority to require all of the 8,500 firearm dealers in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas to report all sales of two or more semiautomatic rifles within five consecutive business days, if the rifles are larger than .22 caliber and use detachable magazines.

The existing laws we have are enough, money would be better spent in adding more officials to enforce existing laws. I do not own any fire arms. I am a veteran of The United States Navy Submarine Service, honorable discharge Sept 1995. Thank you, for considering my opinion.

In my experience, and in their record, the ATF has shown itself to be less than honest, diligent, just, and competent. Self producing more gun regulations is hardly the best tack, as it should be cleaning itself up, and working towards a more friendly relationship with the citizens it is a servant of. I unreservedly oppose the reporting of multiple long rifle sales, as it is not a method that will stop crime. It will have the guilty reported as well as the innocent, and only serve to put law abiding gun owners on government lists, making them de facto suspects. Might not a better method be to observe and report known miscreants, as they almost always associate with other criminals, and thereby get the information sought? Nets thrown at random catch lots, and too often, the unneeded, unwanted, and the innocent. This method you speak of also establishes de facto gun registration lists, something specifically outlawed in Congress. Project Gunwalker? What happened to Agent Brian Terry, and how did the gun he was killed with get into the hands of Mexicans? I believe you're letting guns into Mexico for the purpose of inflating numbers, and justifying your budget. Shame. Do you have any? Brian Barfield.

Sean P Carey

If you're one of the nearly 71 million Americans who live in the four southwest border states, some of your gun purchases could soon be reported to the federal government. And whether you live in one of those states or elsewhere, your help is needed now to stop the federal government's plan to register Americans' gun purchases.

The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives is demanding the authority to require all of the 8,500 firearm dealers in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas to report all sales of two or more semiautomatic rifles within five consecutive business days, if the rifles are larger than .22 caliber and use detachable magazines. For example, a dealer would have to tell the government every time a deer hunter in Sacramento or Amarillo finds a good deal on a pair of semi-auto .30-06s like the popular Remington 7400.

The ATF has no legal authority to demand these reports, and the flood of new paperwork will waste scarce law enforcement resources that should be spent on legitimate investigations.

This comment is in response to BATFE's proposed emergency regulation requiring firearms dealers report sales of multiple semi automatic rifles.

I am against the proposal, and I request that you not adopt it.

The regulation is based on bad information, and on misinterpretations of that information (the number of guns used in crimes in Mexico that allegedly came from the U.S.). The regulation is unnecessary, and it violates the rights of the purchasers. Existing law allows the government to obtain information gun purchases in the course of an investigation of a specific crime. It is also an unnecessary burden on the dealers. I am very skeptical of the promise that it is a "temporary" regulation. It also violates the clear policy against the federal government retaining records of gun purchases.

In addition, there is no "emergency." If such a regulation is to be considered, it should come only after Congress specifically grants authority to do so, and after a suitable time for comments.

Dear Madam,

I respectfully request that your Department reconsider its position with regard to the above-mentioned Review.

ATF does not have the statutory authority to impose this requirement on licensees. Congress has comprehensively defined what ATF may and may not require with respect to licensees' records. By specifically requiring reports only of multiple handgun sales, Congress implicitly rejected the idea of requiring reports on multiple sales of other firearms. The scope of the proposed collection suggests in itself that the proposal exceeds ATF's statutory authority.

Nearly one out of seven firearm retailers in the United States would receive demand letters for multiple rifle sales. The burden estimate in the proposal appears to assume that each licensee subject to a demand letter will respond once during the proposed duration of the program. Given the great variety in size and sales volume among the thousands of licensees in the Border States, this seems unlikely.

Therefore, OMB should deny ATF's request to approve its proposed collection of information.

Thank you for your consideration.

It's time that Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

Barbara A. Terrell,

I am outraged at the December 17, 2010 "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale of Other Disposition of Certain Rifles". The ATF has no legal authority to demand these reports, and the flood of new paperwork will waste scarce law enforcement resources that should be spent on legitimate investigations. This is just another ploy to lessen the peoples Second Amendment Rights.

I HAVE BEEN A GUN OWNER FOR FIFTY YEARS. A GOOD PART OF MY LIFE , I HAVE USED LONG GUNS FOR HUNTING AND TARGET SHOOTING.

I FEEL THAT FOCUSING ON LONG GUNS AND PROPOSING A PLAN TO DOCUMENT SALES LIKE HANDGUNS WOULD WASTE MONEY AND MANPOWER. THIS MANPOWER SHOULD BE USED FOR FOLLOWUP ON "STRAW PURCHASES " OF HANDGUNS.

AGAIN, THANK YOU FOR YOUR TIME.

I would like to voice my concern about this rule. We already have mandatory reporting of multiple sales of handguns and the provisions of this LAW are NOT enforced by ATF. From 25 years in law enforcement I know numerous Law Enforcement Officials routinely ignore the law that states their copies of this form are to be destroyed and that they are to report this to ATF. ATF does not check (enforce) this law and yet we "want" another provision!? This failure to enforce is despite ATF getting their own copies. We don't need any further rules when Laws are not being enforced! When was the last time ATF checked to see if Law Enforcement was complying with the LAW? I don't believe there has been a single inspection performed.

I don't understand why so many people in government are after gun control. We all know that if you take the guns away from the honest gun owners the only people that will have guns are the people that should NOT have them. As you know the countries that took the guns from the people killed off most of the population that did not fit their cause. History thru the ages has shown this to be true. With the threats that are pending now this possible again. I for one do not condone such action and the 2nd entitles this not to happen. Switzerland has the right idea and we should do the same. As a vet off WWII, I AM AGAINST GUN CONTROL BY ANY GOVERNMENT AGENCY. What is wrong with the constitution the way it is and what it stands for It has did us good for several hundred years and it will serve for many more.

does the United states get their firearms from class 1 dealers? that answer is probably no. where do you purchase your machine guns (True "assault weapons")? From arms dealers dealing in high volumes of weaponry that come from regulated manufacturers or overseas importers. Just like your not getting your firearms from dealers in the border states, niether are the mexican gangs and drug dealers. besides, why buy a semi-auto rifle when you can have a machine gun for the same price on the black market in mexico. please stop harassing individuals that like to collect wonderful and lawful firearms. thanks for listening to my rant. shannon by the way, how hard is to repeal the 1986 firearms law?

Please OPPOSE the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Do not let this happen to are country, it is not right. I am well aware that ATF would understandably like to take strong steps to address drug-related violence in Mexico. But lawlessness in Mexico—driven by multi-billion dollar drug cartels with access to any and all types of arms on the International black markets—is no excuse for U.S. law enforcement agencies to spend scarce resources on programs that exceed their legal powers.

Therefore, OMB should deny ATF's request to approve its proposed collection of information.

Dear Ms. Terrell,

Please vote NO on the bill that tracks long gun purchases in the border states. I feel that if this bill passes it will be a waste of law enforcement personnel tracking legal gun purchases and will be an infringement on the second amendment. I believe that the Mexican drug cartels are receiving all of their firearms from foreign countries like Cuba, and NOT from the United States.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
Shawn Little

Dear Barbara Terrell,

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

When humans can declare a plant illegal, a plant that is a natural occurring God given gift...hemp...for not other reason than it is a threat to the cotton industry...then it is time to put a quota on the number of guns that can be made. Guns do not grow on trees nor do they take root and grow outta the ground. Guns are a product of human hands and humans are responsible for the number of these weapons of Mass Production that are allowed on the planet. Limit their numbers.

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

The ATF has no legal authority to demand ATF Long Gun Sales Reporting.

This is a blatant attempt by an unelected Federal Bureaucrat to register Americans' guns.

It Violates our civil liberties and Right to keep and bear arms. And the second amendment!

Please OPPOSE the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

Subject: Oppose Regulation Expanding Multiple Sale Reporting

I am writing to oppose the so called emergency regulation to register multiple sales of certain rifles with BATFE as described in FR Doc. 2010-31761 from the 12/17/2010 Federal Register.

This regulation is both illegal and unnecessary. Further there is no justification for any "emergency" implementation as reported by the Washington Post:

White House delayed rule meant to stop gun flow to Mexico, Washington Post, Dec. 17, 2010, On-line edition:

(<http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/content/article/2010/12/17/AR2010121706598.html>).

* The regulation proposed is outside the statutory grant of authority to record information about multiple sales of firearms. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) specifically grants the authority to collect multiple sale information on handguns and revolvers. Other firearms are excluded and there is no implied authority to extend this reporting requirement to rifles or any other type of firearm.

* "FFL" holders are already required by law to respond to BATFE requests for information on firearms distribution pursuant to criminal investigations: Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(7).

* The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of information collected, which establishes a nationwide registry of "certain types of firearms" as proposed. Because of this the regulation as proposed is illegal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a). "No such rule or regulation . may require that records required to be maintained under this chapter or any portion of the contents of such records, be recorded at or transferred to a facility owned, managed, or controlled by the United States or any State or any political subdivision thereof, nor that any system of registration of firearms, firearms owners, or firearms transactions or disposition be established."

There is a grave potential for this regulation to unduly burden citizens who are collectors or must obtain purchase permits at the local or state level to possess firearms. The proposed regulation does not say what the agency intends to do with the information but ostensibly it would be for criminal investigations. Subjecting law abiding gun owners to this type of investigation under the guise of "information collection" is an overt attempt to prevent them from exercising their 2nd Amendment rights to purchase and own firearms.

* This regulatory action has not allowed the public sufficient time to comment.

This regulatory action should not be approved.

Thank You for your consideration,
Christina Howton, MSN

Dear Barbara Terrell,

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

Please OPPOSE the “Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles.”

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

Sincerely,

S. Marvin Elliott

Dear Ms. Terrell,

I am writing you to let you know that I am one of the millions of Americans that do NOT support government registration of firearms in any form for any reason. This request to require registration appears to be aimed at a perceived problem in Mexico. Even if there is a real problem in Mexico, requiring gun buyers to put their name on a "List" is not going to solve anything. It will only create more bureaucratic red tape. People are only going to look at it as another hurdle to go around.

We all know that this, like most regulations, will only grow. Right now you are only focusing on four states, in a few years, it will be a few more states and even stricter provisions, etc. It needs to be stopped from being implemented.

Thank you for hearing from the public regarding this and I hope to see it NOT be implemented.

Sid Elyea

Hello,

I am totally against the stated article below:

Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles

This action is totally against the American way! I am a free man that abides by the law of the land. I should be able to buy as many guns as I would like without the government knowing about it. This is getting ridiculous! I am a college graduate that sells medical devices into operating rooms for a living, and it is disrespectful for you all to thumb around in my business. We don't follow you around and want to know about how many times you go practice at the gun range.

DON'T TREAD ON ME!

Dear Ms. Terrell:

Please be advised that I am strongly opposed to any registering of long guns or recording the purchases of long guns. One only needs to look to our neighbor Canada and their failed attempt to register long guns to know it doesn't work.

Canada spent Billions of dollars attempting to register long guns only to give up the program. Also, by enacting that legislation Canada severely affected their economy because people who would ordinarily go to Canada from the US to hunt will no longer go there.

Lastly, it doesn't work. This action, if implemented would take a lot of money and resources which would be much better used fighting the real problem.

Sincerely;

Dear Ms Terrell,

This is in response to new regulations that gun shops report multiple purchases of long guns.

My son-in-law sums it up best... "This, at best is a scheme to impose more unnecessary gun control laws. I never see any long guns shown on TV after busts in Mexico, just AKs and rocket launchers, which you cannot buy at gun shops. We have over 20,000 gun laws on the books in the U.S. We need good police work, and budgets to do it, not more feel good laws."

By the way, my son-in-law, I'm proud to say is an outstanding police officer!!

Thank you for listening.

Best regards,

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

Ms. Terrell:

The agent (ATF) of United States Government is not to use the information obtained from any records or form which are required to be maintained for inspection or submission by licensees under Chapter 44 to establish any system of registration of firearms, firearms owners, or firearms transactions or dispositions.

Id. at 18. 4 § 926(a) provides in part that the Attorney General may not promulgate a "rule or regulation" which would: require that records required to be maintained under this chapter or any portion of the contents of such records, be recorded at or transferred to a facility owned, managed, or controlled by the United States

Case law and the CFR is clear in the limitations of the ATF. Any country that can export tons of illegal drugs to America and else where in the world, will have no trouble getting weapons from places where fully automatic weapons and high explosive devices are easily obtained. Please understand America was built on bravery and the love of God and freedom, the weapons being use by the "BAD GUYS" are not coming form Big Bubbas sporting emporium, they are coming from the rest of the world. Perhaps the ATF should turn their eyes to those countries and stand by to protect Americans instead of attempting to bring us to the level of some 3rd world country.

Subject: Comments re 17 DEC 1010 "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

Importance: High

Dear Ms. Terrell,

I respectfully object to the proposed DOJ/BATFE collection of information regarding multiple sale or disposition of certain rifles as published by Notice in the 17 DEC 10 Federal Register.

1. I strongly feel that the proposed collection of information is not necessary and will be of no practical utility for the reasons stated below:

My opinion is based upon the frequent (but inaccurate) Administration and agency statements to the effect that 90% of the Mexican gun supply originates from the United States. This lack of accuracy has been discussed elsewhere for several months. One example of a very recent report from a prominent source is available at the link below. Reprinting or republication of this report on websites is authorized by prominently displaying the following sentence, including the hyperlink to STRATFOR, at the beginning or end of the report.

"Mexico's Gun Supply and the 90 Percent Myth is republished with permission of STRATFOR."

According to the original GAO report on weapons, a total of approximately 30,000 firearms were seized from criminals by Mexican agencies in 2008. The GAO stated that only some 7,200 of these seized firearms were the subject of information provided to BATFE for tracing. Of the 7,200 weapons, approximately 4,000 could be traced at all. Only approximately 3,800 of these could be traced to origins within the United States. While 95% of the traceable weapons were of US origin, only approximately 12.7% of the seized weapons were of U.S. Origin.

The GAO report identifies neither the percentage nor the number of these seized weapons (of U.S. origin) that were rifles of the type now the subject of the BATFE proposal. The GAO report also fails to provide any delineation between "sporting" and "assault" weapons/rifles.

If one was to generously (but incorrectly) assume that half of the traceable weapons of U.S. origin were rifles (1,900), and that half of these were “sporting” rifles (950), these would represent a mere 3.2% of the entire inventory of seized weapons. One can only guess how many of these “sporting” rifles might have been of the semi-automatic variety now of such interest to BATFE.

There is little practical utility in the BATF collection of personal information on the sale of such rifles.

2. I also strongly feel that the agency’s estimates of the cost and agency manpower burden of proposed information collection are understated for the reasons stated below:

There is no accurate estimate of the cost of forms generation & distribution. There is no accurate estimate of the timeline and cost for developing a related new database, or for modifying an existing database. There is no accurate estimate of the timeline or cost for establishment of the electronic means of transmitting the required data to the agency. There is no accurate estimate of the cost associated with tracking and dissemination of such data in a meaningful manner.

3. I again strongly feel that the estimated burden upon firearms dealers and members of the rifle-purchasing public are invalid for the reasons stated below:

There is no data available in the proposal defining the number of the seized, traceable, semi-automatic rifles of U.S. origin that were purchased in the either the proposed states of interest or in the United States as a whole.

There is no definition via data, or assumed data, as to how many of these rifles were purchased in the quantity or timeline of interest as stated in the proposed collection of information. There is no definition of what “other disposition” information may be collected as part of the proposed effort. There is no data supporting the estimated number of individuals who may be burdened with providing the proposed information.

The agency has provided no data demonstrating the accuracy or applicability of the assumptions made in defining the scope of the proposed collection effort.

I therefore respectfully recommend cancelation of the proposed information collection operation.

Thank you for your patience in reviewing my comments,
D. M. "Skip" Clark

When citizens are armed - which we are honored to do by the 2nd Amendment - crime goes down, because the outlaws never know who is armed and who isn't. That's a fact, and BATFE knows that as well.

This regulatory action has not allowed the public sufficient time to comment.

I oppose the so called emergency regulation to register multiple sales of certain rifles with BATFE as described in FR Document 2010-31761 from the 12/17/2010 Federal Register.

The regulation proposed is outside the law's grant of authority to record information about multiple sales of firearms. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) specifically grants the authority to collect multiple sale information on handguns and revolvers. Other firearms are excluded.

Federal Firearms License holders are already required by law to respond to BATFE requests for information on firearms distribution pursuant to criminal investigations: Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(7).

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of information collected, which establishes a nationwide registry of "certain types of firearms" as proposed. Because of this the regulation as proposed is illegal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Subjecting law abiding gun owners to this type of fishing expedition under the guise of "information collection" is an overt attempt to prevent them from exercising their 2nd Amendment rights to purchase and own firearms.

This regulatory action should not be approved.

For example, a dealer would have to tell the government every time a deer hunter in Sacramento or Amarillo finds a good deal on a pair of semi-auto .30-06s like the popular Remington 7400.

The ATF has no legal authority to demand these reports, and the flood of new paperwork will waste scarce law enforcement resources that should be spent on legitimate investigations.

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

I believe that the rules and laws regarding gun control, should be looked at and changed to do the following:

People with prison records, gun traffiteers and those people that suffer from mental diseases and disorders, should not be allowed to purchase guns.

I also believe that all states should support a consistant waiting time in order to buy weapons.

Our constitution framework signees never figured on the buying and selling of assault and automotic weapons with clips that fire more than six shots. Therefore, I believe that these weapons should be more strigently controled than the basic rifle that hunters use for hunting.

I also strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

I see that again the ATF is not using their heads and asking for a multiple gun sales reporting from states close to Mexico. This kind of waste of manpower and monies is the reason you don't solve real crimes. You know that the Mexican criminals don't shop at the American gun stores just by seeing what type of guns they use and it has been proven time and time again to you. But what I keep seeing in situations like what you are asking is that once you become a political worker you are no longer required to think logically. Please refrain from consideration of this burdensome useless policy as it will burden small business.

This policy will strain not only businesses but law enforcement as well and will not change the situation in Mexico as unfortunate as it is.

As a licensed firearm dealer we do our best to insure every transaction is legal and ethical and if questionable we have always contacted our local ATF agents to advise us to ensure compliance.

We are a small family owned store with three full time employees and know we will have a difficult time staying compliant with such a policy.

This will also cost us financially as our software does not support this type of tracking ability.

Please OPPOSE the “Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles.”

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

Re: Federal Register Notice of December 17, 2010 (Volume 75, Number 242, Page 790210), 60-Day Emergency notice of Information Collection Under Review:
Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to offer comments on the ATF information collection request to the Office of Management and Budget.

The notice proposed an "emergency" requirement that certain federal firearms licensees report multiple sales or other dispositions whenever the licensee sells or otherwise disposes of two or more rifles with certain characteristics within any five consecutive business days.

ATF does not have the statutory authority to impose this requirement on licensees because Congress has comprehensively defined what ATF may and may not require with respect to licensees' records. By specifically requiring reports only of multiple handgun sales, Congress implicitly rejected the idea of requiring reports on multiple sales of other firearms. ATF seemed to understand that point in a response to the DOJ Inspector General in October when it stated that such a requirement "may require a change to the Gun Control Act".

And if the recommendations were imposed, how could ATF make effective use of the volume of reports that would be generated given recent media reports suggesting that ATF is already unable to handle current voluntary reports?

I understand that ATF would like to take strong steps to address drug-related violence in Mexico. But that lawlessness is driven by drug cartels with access to any and all types of arms on the international black markets. That is no excuse for U.S. law enforcement agencies to spend scarce resources on programs that exceed their legal powers.

OMB should deny ATF's request to approve its proposed collection of information.

Respectfully Submitted,

A. Spencer

The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives is demanding the authority to require all of the 8,500 firearm dealers in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas to report all sales of two or more semiautomatic rifles within five consecutive business days, if the rifles are larger than .22 caliber and use detachable magazines. For example, a dealer would have to tell the government every time a deer hunter in Sacramento or Amarillo finds a good deal on a pair of semi-auto .30-06s like the popular Remington 7400.

The ATF has no legal authority to demand these reports, and the flood of new paperwork will waste scarce law enforcement resources that should be spent on legitimate investigations.

I am dismayed at the request to track the sale of multiple firearms in the four states mentioned in the request. It appears that this is a "lets impose this burden on these folks and then lets see if any worthwhile results come to fruition" In the real business world a proposal has a proforma...what are you going to do, what are the expected results, what are the benefits, what is the cost, and who are the individuals responsible.

If all of these items were included in the request then perhaps the citizens could support or deny this activity.

Dear Ms. Terrell,

I strongly object to the proposal of the ATF wanting to register firearms. This would increase the burden on the police with undue paper work. The whole country has had to reduce the police forces and government jobs that I would think there would be better ways to use these remaining resources than to process extra paper work. If the ATF felt that there is a concern in when a person purchases a semi-automatic firearm them possibly the waiting period should be longer so the back ground of the intended purchaser could be checked out a little better. This is not a good idea. The majority of the people who purchase guns are not the problem in this country, but they will be the ones to suffer if this is enacted. I would like to thank you for your time.

Dear Barbara Terrell,

Regarding

December 17, 2010 - Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles.

I respectfully submit that this action is not in the best interest of our Nation.

Tracking and attacking gun ownership, does not curtail the activities of the organized Drug organization originating in Mexico.

I grew up on a farm and still remember the days that the Federal government was going to help the locals with a beaver infestation, since much of their area had planted Hardwood as a business.

The short story is that the Federal government brought in Coyotes (a natural enemy of beavers) to rectify the problem.

However, the coyotes found that the local population of Rabbits, quail and other easier prey. Lacked the teeth that a beaver has to defend itself. So the Wiley coyote left the beaver alone.

Now we have Beaver AND Coyotes infestation and a damaged ecosystem.

I say all this to ask that you attack the Villains (Mexican Drug Org.) and not bring in an outside well meaning tool that will not be useful.

May I re-submit everyone to:

“. . .the right of the people to keep and bear Arms, shall not be infringed.”

It's time that Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

We do not need any more delay on getting this proposal into effect, immediately. The people do not understand why the White House Obama administration did not agree to immediate enforcement, except maybe bowing to NRA pressure. Don't let that stop you.

Barbara A. Terrell

In regards to:
(ATF) information collection request to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB).

The notice proposed an "emergency" requirement that certain federal firearms licensees report multiple sales or other dispositions whenever the licensee sells or otherwise disposes of two or more rifles within any five consecutive business days with the following characteristics: (a) Semi automatic; (b) a caliber greater than .22; and (c) the ability to accept a detachable magazine.

Now, the OMB has denied the "emergency" request, but regardless of the time frame in which approval is sought, ATF does not have the statutory authority to impose this requirement on licensees.

International black markets—is no excuse for U.S. law enforcement agencies to spend scarce resources on programs that exceed their legal powers.

Therefore, OMB should deny ATF's request to approve its proposed collection of information.

I am an American, born and raised here, and I am tired of the constant harassment on our rights by anti gun organizations like the ATF and the Brady bunch treading on American rights, and lying to accomplish it!

The ATF should be working for America and help to make it stronger and to protect our rights, not try to dilute them. I would be ashamed to work for the ATF as they stand right now.

We all need to fight with each other, not against each other. Taking away American's rights will not gain you favor.

Thank you for your time,

Barbara,

In principle, I support this although I think the threshold should be 3 or more. It isn't uncommon for citizens to buy two of a firearm when the price is right- for a spouse or other relative, for multiple rooms in a residence, one for home and business, one for carry and home, etc. The more you practice with a specific firearm, the more proficient you become with it so there is a benefit to having that same type of firearm available at locations where you might need it. There is nothing nefarious about that, it is prudent.

I don't want a government database of whether or not a citizen purchases a firearm.

But I agree citizens need to support reasonable monitoring of purchases to prevent criminal activity and to protect self protection rights of citizens.

That includes background checks at gun shows.

I've used firearms for 48 years. Have had CCLs since 1995 in Connecticut and 3 other states. Police are great and wonderful but as a former victim assistance counselor and protection specialist, I know the outcome of most violent encounters are determined in fewer than 10 seconds. Citizens must be responsible for their safety and welfare.

That is why I support reasonable purchase monitoring and background checks at gun shows- because not doing so is too risky and threatens citizens' self protection rights because of potential political backlash when something violent happens as a consequence of not having done so.

Thank you for your time and attention to this matter.

Subject: Oppose Regulation Expanding Multiple Sale Reporting

Importance: High

Greetings Ms. Terrell,

I am writing to oppose the so called emergency regulation to register multiple sales of certain rifles with BATFE as described in FR Doc. 2010-31761 from the 12/17/2010 Federal Register.

This regulation is both illegal and unnecessary. Further there is no justification for any "emergency" implementation as reported by the Washington Post:

White House delayed rule meant to stop gun flow to Mexico, Washington Post, Dec. 17, 2010, On-line edition:
<http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/content/article/2010/12/17/AR2010121706598.html>

- The regulation proposed is outside the statutory grant of authority to record information about multiple sales of firearms. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) specifically grants the authority to collect multiple sale information on handguns and revolvers. Other firearms are excluded and there is no implied authority to extend this reporting requirement to rifles or any other type of firearm.
- FFL" holders are already required by law to respond to BATFE requests for information on firearms distribution pursuant to criminal investigations: Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(7).
- The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of information collected, which establishes a nationwide registry of "certain types of firearms" as proposed. Because of this the regulation as proposed is illegal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a). "No such rule or regulation . may require that records required to be maintained under this chapter or any portion of the contents of such records, be recorded at or transferred to a facility owned, managed, or controlled by the United States or any State or any political subdivision thereof, nor that any system of registration of firearms, firearms owners, or firearms transactions or disposition be established."

There is a grave potential for this regulation to unduly burden citizens who are collectors or must obtain purchase permits at the local or state level to possess firearms. The proposed regulation does not say what the agency intends to do with the information but ostensibly it would be for criminal investigations. Subjecting law abiding gun owners to this type of investigation under the guise of "information collection" is an overt attempt to prevent them from exercising their 2nd Amendment rights to purchase and own firearms.

- This regulatory action has not allowed the public sufficient time to comment.

This regulatory action should not be approved.

Thank you for taking your time to read this and sharing with the appropriate persons within your organization.

Dear Barbara Terrell,

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

After reading the proposed emergency information collection review I am compelled to express my disagreement with another information gathering effort. My concerns are:

1. What analysis will be performed on this data and what is the perceived benefit?
2. Will this happen in a timely fashion and at what cost to other current law enforcement activities?

I think more needs to be done improve background checks and get better information faster. There are many ways to quickly gather information on an individual which hopefully would help avoid psychotics and others with reported questionable mental conditions purchasing or retaining ownership of handguns. The law abiding legitimate gun owners of this country are being tainted by the acts of a very small minority. It is time to focus on respecting the rights of the majority and find better ways to enforce the current laws.

Sincerely,

Stephen Griffin

Ms. Terrell:

I would like to comment on the December 17, 2010 "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

I am apposed to ATF requiring gun dealers in the Southwest states to report sales of certain rifles under certain conditions. I believe ATF does not have the authority to set this level of restrictions on gun purchases without it coming through the normal legislative process. This proposal violates the US Constitution in that the Executive Branch does not have constitutional authority to make law.

The ATF needs to back off this proposal.

Subject: Support for the Reporting of Multiple Sales of Long Guns

It's time that Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

Subject: Oppose Reg. expanding multiple sales reporting

Dear Mrs(s).Terrell,

I don't know exactly what you all are up to, but, after the last year of events, I think your agency is overstepping it's legal authority. Not only does this "regulation" collect information (which the firearms dealer has already complied with) that can be abused, by compiling "illegal lists", I am suspicious of it's direction.

Your project "gunwalker" (gunrunner), in light of what has happened in Arizona, is nothing more than attempt to cover up the real problem and create a lie and smokescreen for these dubious "necessary attempts to curb the flow of weapons into Mexico...". We all know where those automatic weapons are coming from...and, it's NOT north of the border. Many of your ATF supervisors and field agents have their "own agenda" going...and, we all know that, too. The ATF has some questionable practices and instances of turning a "blind eye", when they want to, or, when it falls in line with their purpose.

You need to get back to serious and HONEST investigations of crimes, and not creating illegal regulations, not approved by congress to meet an administration's agenda. You need to focus your concerns toward the real criminals, not law abiding citizens exercising their 2nd Amendment rights. More bureaucracy, wasting resources and money, and fabricating blame on a population of U.S. citizens who have NOTHING to do with what Mexico is creating for themselves...is a dishonest and fraudulent.

I request you reconsider your position on this matter. It's not legal, it's not needed, and the law abiding public doesn't want to see this "regulation" approved.

Respectfully,
S. R. Scott

This is NOT going to curtail the problem in Mexico. The border problem is NOT within the United States. Have you heard of smuggling? It's a process by which legal ownership of firearms is bypassed, either by theft or illegal sales, or by legitimate sales in minor cases. FULLY AUTOMATIC WEAPONS ARE THE CHOICE OF ILLEGAL DRUG LORDS. AK47's, and other 5.56mm NATO capable fully automatic weapons, WHICH ARE NOT TRACED BY UNITED STATES SALES, nor would they be, for they are NOT sold from within the U.S., and would in fact be procured OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES.

This is nothing more than the underhanded NWO attempt to curtail, 'nudge' inch by inch, people into NOT buying firearms, and creating a FALSE pretense by which firearm bans are created. So many people are SO eager to overlook that phrase 'shall not be infringed' portion of the 2nd Amendment. Infringement comes in many forms. Discretely by that.

Why not call in the U.S. military and DEAL with the drug lord wars like they should be and get those illegal paramilitary's out of the Arizona border parks?

What is REALLY going on, anyway? I'm not buying this attempt to back-door register firearms. That's all this is; back door registration.

Why isn't the BATFE protecting the U.S. citizen's rights and instead going after the real problem makers in Mexico and those sitting inside our borders in Arizona?

Really!

Use the Laws we have and make the Mexican Government responsible for there own out of control problems.

I am writing to oppose the so called emergency regulation to register multiple sales of certain rifles with BATFE as described in FR Doc. 2010-31761 from the 12/17/2010 Federal Register.

This regulation is both illegal and unnecessary. Further there is no justification for any "emergency" implementation as reported by the Washington Post:

White House delayed rule meant to stop gun flow to Mexico, Washington Post, Dec. 17, 2010, On-line edition: (<http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/content/article/2010/12/17/AR2010121706598.html>).

* The regulation proposed is outside the statutory grant of authority to record information about multiple sales of firearms. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) specifically grants the authority to collect multiple sale information on handguns and revolvers. Other firearms are excluded and there is no implied authority to extend this reporting requirement to rifles or any other type of firearm.

* "FFL" holders are already required by law to respond to BATFE requests for information on firearms distribution pursuant to criminal investigations: Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(7).

* The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of information collected, which establishes a nationwide registry of "certain types of firearms" as proposed. Because of this the regulation as proposed is illegal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a). "No such rule or regulation . may require that records required to be maintained under this chapter or any portion of the contents of such records, be recorded at or transferred to a facility owned, managed, or controlled by the United States or any State or any political subdivision thereof, nor that any system of registration of firearms, firearms owners, or firearms transactions or disposition be established."

There is a grave potential for this regulation to unduly burden citizens who are collectors or must obtain purchase permits at the local or state level to possess firearms. The proposed regulation does not say what the agency intends to do with the information but ostensibly it would be for criminal investigations. Subjecting law abiding gun owners to this type of investigation under the guise of "information collection" is an overt attempt to prevent them from exercising their 2nd Amendment rights to purchase and own firearms.

This regulatory action should not be approved.

Dear Ms Terrell,

I am strongly against illegally making legitimate gun dealers register long gun sales for any reason and anywhere in the United States; especially the 4 states bordering Mexico.

The problem Mexico has is their firearms laws are such that the average citizen has no way to protect himself from the crime problems there, and the Mexican government won't do it. The crime in Mexico will continue until the citizens have the means to defend themselves with firearms.

Restricting the rights of U.S. citizens to purchase firearms, because of bad politics in Mexico makes about as much sense as arresting a car because it was in an accident.

Subject: ATF Long Guns Sales Reporting

To Whom It May Concern,

We are writing, to offer our comments on this Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives (ATF) information collection request to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB).

The Congress has comprehensively defined what ATF may and may not require with respect to licensees' records. By specifically requiring reports only of multiple handgun sales, Congress implicitly rejected the idea of requiring reports on multiple sales of other firearms. ATF seemed to understand that point when it responded in October to a recommendation for multiple long gun sales reporting by the Department of Justice Inspector General. ATF's comment on that recommendation was that it would "explore the full range of options" but that such a requirement "may require a change to the Gun Control Act.

The scope of the proposed collection suggests in itself that the proposal exceeds ATF's statutory authority. The 4th Circuit stressed that the letter at issue in the RSM case was sent to only 41 licensees out of the 80,000 licensees in the United States. A second type of demand letter was sent to only 450 dealers nationwide.

Even if the burden estimate in the proposal is correct, it is unclear how ATF could make effective use of the large number of reports that would be generated. Recent media reports suggest that ATF is already unable to handle dealers' voluntary, real-time reports of possible "straw purchases."

If processing thousands of additional mandatory reports takes even more resources away from investigating these suspicious transactions, the proposed information collection may be more harmful than helpful. We are very well aware that ATF would, understandably, like to take strong steps to address drug-related violence in Mexico.

But lawlessness in Mexico—driven by multi-billion dollar drug cartels with access to any and all types of arms on the international black markets—is no excuse for U.S. law enforcement agencies to spend scarce, limited resources on programs that exceed their legal powers.

Therefore, OMB should deny ATF's request to approve its proposed collection of information. If you have any questions about our comments, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Sincerely,

Register Americans gun purchases !!!

The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives is demanding the authority to require all of the 8,500 firearm dealers in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas to report all sales of two or more semiautomatic rifles within five consecutive business days, if the rifles are larger than .22 caliber and use detachable magazines. For example, a dealer would have to tell the government every time a deer hunter in Sacramento or Amarillo finds a good deal on a pair of semi-auto .30-06s like the popular Remington 7400.

The ATF has no legal authority to demand these reports, and the flood of new paperwork will waste scarce law enforcement resources that should be spent on legitimate investigations !

This is all outrageous propaganda accusations of the US supplying Mexican drug lords with guns ! There is no possible way we could supply them with the amory they have ! We who have a sound mind know this is just one more way to infringe on our second amendment rights and are not going to allow it !

In 1994, Congress enacted § 923(g)(7), which created an explicit duty of a licensee to respond to a trace request, "orally or in writing, as the Attorney General may require" within 24 hours and authorized the Attorney General to make such requests by telephone. A trace request pursuant to § 923(g)(7) was, however, only for the purpose of "determining the disposition of 1 or more firearms in the course of a bona fide criminal investigation."

Dear Barbara Terrell,

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

Ms. Terrell,

I am against the registering of long guns sold and bought along the Mexican/American border. There is not a place or time the making honest citizens register their firearms has ever slowed or stopped the violence caused by the un-lawful. This type of law would only punish the honest people in our country. If the American Government can prove that illegal sales are taking place than punish those breaking the law. If the government knows there is an issue along the board let the states use their national guards to create a safe zone. But we much quit punishing the people who obey the laws or soon there will be no incentive for any of us to obey the laws of the great country.

Subject: Do Not Support Proposal- December 17, 2010 "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

I do not support this proposed "emergency" action designed to (unlawfully) create a federal registration of firearms by the BATF, through the use of reporting sale of certain firearms.

History shows measures taken under "emergency" powers are the most dangerously abused. Specifically, the Nazi party in Germany skillfully used emergency powers to bring a tyrant to power that led to disarmament of the citizens, with devastating results.

Reporting multiple long gun sales is not the answer to crime in Mexico, and this is a first step toward federal firearms registration, and subsequent confiscation. It has happened elsewhere, and had negative results in every case as crime rose in the wake.

I strongly support law enforcement efforts to combat violence from drug cartels and other criminal elements in Mexico or other countries that threaten our national safety and security. Put more police on the border, and apply more resources to investigate crimes,

However, I do not support any efforts that erode our liberty and personal freedoms, including our 2nd Amendment rights, in the name of public safety. A well-armed citizen is as much a deterrent to external threats as any firearms reporting policy could ever be.

Again, I refer you to the historic case of WW2 where the military leaders in Japan determined an invasion of the American homeland would be impossible, because we were an armed populace.

Multiple firearm sale reports will not do anything to prevent criminals in Mexico from pursuing their nefarious deeds. But a policy that reports firearm sales will begin federal agents uselessly pursuing law-abiding citizens.

The logical use of that collection of multiple sale information must be for law enforcement or federal agents to pursue those "leads" to investigate who the purchasers were, why the firearms were bought, and where they went to. Otherwise, the data collection would be a useless waste of time if it was not acted on in a timely manner.

However, the action could only be directed against firearms purchasers and sellers who were abiding by the laws in properly reporting the transactions. I am completely confident criminals would find the way to circumvent the law, leaving the investigative resources swamped with checking up on legal transactions, while the criminal elements continued virtually unaffected.

I hope this proposal is not adopted, and gets rejected before it becomes a national mistake we will regret, once it is too late.

Dear Mrs. Terrell

As an Oklahoma state senator and licensed rifle manufacturer who produces semi-automatic long guns, I have grave concerns about the new proposal of reporting sales of two or more rifles purchased within a five day period. First, I am concerned about whether such an administrative measure has legal standing. Such provisions would have to be modified congressionally via changes to the Gun Control Act. Please explain how there is statutory authority for it.

Second, as a combat infantry veteran of Kosovo, Kuwait, Afghanistan and Iraq, I have seen the dangers of overstepping authority by using 'emergency' measures. Usually, such measures are only a mask to limit the rights of citizens rather than protect the country. I believe this clearly to be the case as no great peril exists to American citizens warranting such an 'emergency' measure.

Finally, while crime in Mexico is certainly a concern, the facts I have reviewed in the matter suggest that the 18,000 deserters from the Mexican army last year might have more to do with the type of rifles the Drug Cartel is acquiring than those from Joe's Sporting Good's & Bait shop in Brownsville. This is not to mention the plane and boat loads of weaponry illegally obtained through Russian proxies via Africa or those acquired through anti-US governments in Latin America.

I look forward to your response on how the ATF believes there is statutory authority in this measure and do hope that the constitutional barriers in the Bill of Rights will be foremost in consideration. As a citizen, I strongly oppose this move.

Subject: Oppose Regulation Expanding Multiple Sale Reporting

I am writing to oppose the so called emergency regulation to register multiple sales of certain rifles with BATFE as described in FR Doc. 2010-31761 from the 12/17/2010 Federal Register.
<http://edocket.access.gpo.gov/2010/pdf/2010-31761.pdf>

This regulation is both illegal and unnecessary. Further there is no justification for any "emergency" implementation as reported by the Washington Post:
White House delayed rule meant to stop gun flow to Mexico, Washington Post, Dec. 17, 2010, On-line edition:
(<http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/content/article/2010/12/17/AR2010121706598.html>).

* The regulation proposed is outside the statutory grant of authority to record information about multiple sales of firearms. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) specifically grants the authority to collect multiple sale information on handguns and revolvers. Other firearms are excluded and there is no implied authority to extend this reporting requirement to rifles or any other type of firearm.

* "FFL" holders are already required by law to respond to BATFE requests for information on firearms distribution pursuant to criminal investigations: Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(7).

* The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of information collected, which establishes a nationwide registry of "certain types of firearms" as proposed. Because of this the regulation as proposed is illegal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a). "No such rule or regulation . may require that records required to be maintained under this chapter or any portion of the contents of such records, be recorded at or transferred to a facility owned, managed, or controlled by the United States or any State or any political subdivision thereof, nor that any system of registration of firearms, firearms owners, or firearms transactions or disposition be established."

There is a grave potential for this regulation to unduly burden citizens who are collectors or must obtain purchase permits at the local or state level to possess firearms. The proposed regulation does not say what the agency intends to do with the information but ostensibly it would be for criminal investigations. Subjecting law abiding gun owners to this type of investigation under the guise of "information collection" is an overt attempt to prevent them from exercising their 2nd Amendment rights to purchase and own firearms.

* This regulatory action has not allowed the public sufficient time to comment.

This regulatory action should not be approved.

Dear M's. Barbara Terrell,

This note to you is in reference to the December 17, 2010 "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

I have read the proposed rule and find that instituting the rule will adversely effect law abiding citizens who only want to procure a firearm for legal hunting and/or other legal sporting uses. The laws and ATF rules currently on the books already cover, as far as they are able to cover, the unlawful purchase and use of firearms. To put additional rules like this one, on the books will only cause good citizens to jump through yet more hoops and do nothing to stop crime. The proposed regulation will not hinder criminals, who in the vast majority of cases, do not go through legal channels to procure firearms anyway!

The U.S.A. has always had a hidden army of hunters and other sporting people, ready to spring to the aid of our country, in the event that they are called to do so. I know of too many good citizens who already are fearful of purchasing firearms, because of the myriad of complicated and misunderstood laws and rules that have been instituted since the 1960s and have done nothing to stop crime involving firearms. While not stopping crime, they have stigmatized good, honest folk who use firearms for recreation and the same laws have been a hindrance to maintaining our "hidden army", who would stand in the way of any foreign invasion of our country.

Please consider my position and do not put this new ruling into place.

Respectfully submitted,

Steven L. Ashe, senior citizen, US Army veteran, hunter and sport shooter.

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

Subject: Oppose Regulation Expanding Multiple Sale Reporting

I have been reading about BATFE activities in this area and most of what I have heard is very disturbing. The amount of disinformation and (if what I am reading is accurate) lies justifying this regulation indicate to me that it should not be adopted. I will also be contacting my congressional representatives.

I am writing to oppose the so called emergency regulation to register multiple sales of certain rifles with BATFE as described in FR Doc. 2010-31761 from the 12/17/2010 Federal Register

* The regulation proposed is outside the statutory grant of authority to record information about multiple sales of firearms. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) specifically grants the authority to collect multiple sale information on handguns and revolvers. Other firearms are excluded and there is no implied authority to extend this reporting requirement to rifles or any other type of firearm.

* "FFL" holders are already required by law to respond to BATFE requests for information on firearms distribution pursuant to criminal investigations: Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(7).

* The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of information collected, which establishes a nationwide registry of "certain types of firearms" as proposed. Because of this the regulation as proposed is illegal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a). "No such rule or regulation . may require that records required to be maintained under this chapter or any portion of the contents of such records, be recorded at or transferred to a facility owned, managed, or controlled by the United States or any State or any political subdivision thereof, nor that any system of registration of firearms, firearms owners, or firearms transactions or disposition be established."

There is a grave potential for this regulation to unduly burden citizens who are collectors or must obtain purchase permits at the local or state level to possess firearms. The proposed regulation does not say what the agency intends to do with the information but ostensibly it would be for criminal investigations. Subjecting law abiding gun owners to this type of investigation under the guise of "information collection" is an overt attempt to prevent them from exercising their 2nd Amendment rights to purchase and own firearms.

* This regulatory action has not allowed the public sufficient time to comment.

This regulatory action should not be approved.

Dear Ms. Terrell:

I am writing to express my support for the positions that have already been expressed to you and your agency on behalf of the National Rifle Association. I wholly agree with the positions expressed in the NRA's letter dated February 10, 2011, and signed by Chris Cox. I would also offer the following observations for your consideration.

I find it highly concerning that ATF is concerned about monitoring and tracking the acquisition of firearms by US citizens, in response to the crises on the Mexican border. I wholly agree that the border crises demands all of our attention, and the full attention of the Federal government in protecting our country's boundaries. However, I fail to see a compelling argument that monitoring and tracking the acquisition of firearms by US citizens will help in alleviating the issues posed by this crisis. In fact, I fail to see ANY argument on that point.

I do not believe that any part of the ATF's request is consistent with the prohibitions on Federal government powers in Article II of the Bill of Rights. Period.

I sincerely hope that you will reconsider your request for additional funding from the government for the stated purpose identified in the Federal Register. If you would like to discuss any of my comments or views, I would welcome the opportunity. Please advise and I will schedule a time for us to talk via Outlook.

Best regards,

Steve Frye

It's way past time to start making it substantially more difficult for paranoid schizophrenics like Jared Lee Loughner from acquiring automatic weapons with high-capacity ammo clips.

There's patently no way the NRA can make a case for the 2nd amendment rights of psychotics and other mental defectives.

Even if you're willing to let sane Americans carry AK-47s, you've got to at least be willing to draw the line at keeping deadly firearms from Americans with severe mental and/or emotional disturbances.

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Subject: gun control or reporting

Please note my concerns when it comes to voting on all gun control or reporting bills. Guns are not the problem. The bad guys will always have guns and they will not worry about reporting them. Illegal drug purchases don't get reported, and if they did you still could not keep up with the market. The real criminals in this country don't use guns, and they are living high on the mountains. We are too easy on criminals. Why do we sentence a person to death and they are still in jail 20 years later. I would love to have the opportunity to meet and talk with you. Also we need to start taking care of this country and the Americans that live hear.

Vote no for any and all gun control bills.
We have too many regs and rules now.

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

Ms. Terrell,

I am writing to add my input regarding the demand by your agency to enhance your authority to have law abiding firearms dealers to notify you when they sell any two semi-automatic(with the caliber and magazine stipulations) rifles to the same individual in a five day period.

I'm sure that your agency is in the same position as virtually every Government agency is at this time: under-funded, under-staffed, over worked...etc.. To have this demand implemented would surly add to the woes of your agency and would not appreciably do anything to stem the carnage in Mexico.

Already the firearms dealers must phone your agency when a rifle is sold, or two, or three. It would be so much more effective, and such an innovative, prudent move for you to have software written, or re-written, that would cause your present system to automatically flag such transactions.

With situations being what they are (everywhere) and no real relief in sight (anywhere) it is going to be absolutely necessary for agencies to take advantage of creative uses of technologies.

If I can be of assistance, please let me know.

There is no reason to allow these sales to go unchecked. For good or bad, the guns will still be sold. We need to give law enforcement a tool for tracking their use in crimes against citizens of any country.

I live in El Paso, just a few miles from the border! It's infuriating that American munitions dealers can so easily provide heavy armaments to the vicious punks in Cd. Juarez and throughout Mexico. It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

Please OPPOSE the “Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles.”

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

RE: Long Gun Sales Reporting.

Please read my attachment on ATF's long gun sales reporting. I am against using guns as source of tracking criminal activities. Its the criminals, not guns, that are the problem. If no guns were available to sell in those border states with Mexico, there still be criminal activities with criminals' guns obtained from somewhere else. There are plenty of warlords and dictators help giving guns away to criminals. And the use of gun sales tracking will harm Unites States citizens' rights to U.S constitution and Bill of Rights. And that leaves the law abiding citizens exposed to criminal activities with no adequate means to defend themselves. Please don't use guns as means of tracking criminal activities.

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

Please OPPOSE the "Notice of Information Collection Under Review: Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles."

This is an unnecessary regulation and is not allowed under Federal law. Title 18 U.S.C. § 923(g)(3)(A) does not grant any such registration of multiple purchases of firearms, except for handguns.

The regulation contains no provision for the destruction of the collected information, and therefore is not legal under Title 18 U.S.C. § 926(a).

Laws do matter and this unnecessary and extra-legal proposal must NOT be approved.

WHY DON'T YOU GO AFTER THE REAL CRIMINALS AND LEAVE THE LAW ABIDING CITIZENS ALONE. THIS IS JUST A WASTE OF TAXPAYER MONEY AND A WAY FOR YOU TO PUT US MORE IN DEBT AND LINE YOUR OWN POCKETS. TYPICAL POLITICIANS.... WHO CAN WE VIOLATE TODAY AND MAKE GOOD FOR OURSELVES? IT IS NOT IN THE GUNHOLDERS BEST INTEREST. FIND SOME OTHER WAY TO CONTROL CRIMANAL ACTIVITIES. Dear Barbara Terrell,

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

Dear Barbara Terrell,

It's long past time for the Obama administration to do more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels. The very obviously failed "War on Drugs" contributes far too much to the gun traffic.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just as they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and to enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, any person of average intelligence would think that this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

Also, we need to take steps to decrease the damage done by large capacity magazines.

U.S. citizens are smart enough to know that the rhetoric from the gun lobby is not protecting us! PLEASE TAKE A STAND!

It's time that Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use it's authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

Dear Barbara Terrell,

It's time that the Obama administration does more to crack down on the gun smuggling carried out by the Mexican drug cartels.

I strongly support the ATF's proposal to require dealers along the border to report bulk sales of assault rifles, just like they already do with handgun sales. The ATF must use its authority to collect this information and better enforce the laws already on the books.

With more than 30,000 people already murdered in cartel wars, this is an emergency that demands our government's immediate attention.

Barbara,

It seems to me they always attack honest peoples rights when they want to make a law. It is always the crooks that destroy life. You will never stop that regardless of what kind of laws you make, they will get the weapons. Yes I do have guns but for pleasure only. I am sixty eight years old and have been around guns for sixty three years,I still have the empty case with a note inside with the date on it. Well any way this is my two cents worth. Thank you for making a good decision.

Dear Ms. Terrell,

I am concerned about the December 17, 2010 proposal under review: "Report of Multiple Sale or Other Disposition of Certain Rifles." I am certainly concerned about the illegal sales of any kind of weapons to anyone for any purpose. However, I think this proposal will put an undue burden on law-abiding guns dealers and citizens. We have enough laws and regulations that should be adequate to deal with this problem.

Thank you for your time and consideration of this proposal.

Subject: A little common sense is needed
Attachments: revolution.jpg

I am a 71 year old retired attorney. I consider myself a patriot and I believe that I have common sense. I would like a response to this letter so that I know you read it.

The Federal Government with its present administration is dragging down the United States and I think the people that have been elected are doing it on purpose. The First and Second Amendment of our Constitution are the two most import amendments we have, but the Government is trying to take both of them away.

I sincerely hope the destruction of the first and second amendments does not happen in my lifetime for even at the age of 71 I am willing to die for the preservation of both amendments and in fact the entire Constitution.

The limitation of the number of rounds in a magazine is not important. I can shoot 5 shots and reload in less that one second.

I do not understand why BATF and the politicians don't understand that the control of the sale of weapons will not solve the problem. You have 100's of laws against drugs but the drugs are still being sold.

Common sense is called for and these saying prove it:

Guns don't kill people, People kill people.

When guns are outlawed only outlaws will have guns. You know that is true.

There is something wrong with today's youth. It is not the ownership of guns. My hero was Roy Rogers. Remember; he was the good guy with the white hat and he had a gun.

Now the youth's hero is some basket ball or foot ball player with tattoos and ear rings. THAT IN ITSELF SHOULD TELL YOU SOMETHING.

I know you don't believe me and I hope I don't live to see it, but I fear the United States of America is headed for either another War between the States or a Revolution. The ownership of weapons that the BATF wants to regulate is exactly what may prevent such a tragedy. See the attached JPEG image.

Very truly yours,

Dear BATFE personnel,

I understand the BATFE is wanting to record sales of two or more long guns that meet certain specifications in states bordering the country of Mexico. I also understand there are political forces that would use the drug-fueled violence in Mexico to justify making honest US gun buyers have their purchases recorded.

The honest purchasers and owners are not the problem and should not bear the burden of having their purchases recorded because of Mexican crime. As you know, a small percentage of guns purchased in the US are used by drug cartels because they can buy weapons with features unavailable in US gun stores. The recording of these sales has definite potential for “infringing” on the right to keep and bear arms. The proposed rule should not be enacted.
